Speaker of House Points to ta 'Unwise Charity and Unsound Finance.'

New England Society at Dinner Also Hears Warning on Labor Domination.

PEACE PLAN SUGGESTED the

Darwin P. Kingsley Favors

Federation of English
Speaking Peoples.

The strongest kind of a protest against "making the United States Treasury the almoner for the rest of the world" was voiced last night by Frederick H. Gillett, Speaker of the House of Representatives, at the 115th annual dinner of the New England Society in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. He said that the misery of Europe must be privately and not governmentally allayed. Relief from the Government of the United States he termed "unwise charity and unsound finance."

Speaker Gillett would have the United States enter into no dealings with Bolshevist Russia. Instead, he said, he would meet Bolshevism in its own spirit "and declare our implacable defiance and hostility." He also spoke own spirit "and declare our implacable deflance and hostility." He also spoke his mind about the "theory of the is held in trust, "not for the rest of the modern labor unions that the standard of work must be set not by the best workmen but by the poorest." This,

Makes Plan Specific.

Makes Plan Specific.

"If existing governments must periodically call us out for slaughter. If in order to maintain themselves governments must continue to squander the fruits of our toil and sow the earth with death, then away with existing governments. We can endure no more."

Developing his specific plan, Mr. Kingsley proposed the calling of a congress limited in membership to the English speaking nations and would "create a new and nobler citizenship, an Anglo-Saxon citizenship, a citizenship of the English speaking world.
"I would have you create that citizenship by the further use of the sovereignty that rests under your hats, the accreting that rules the State of New York, that created the Federal Union 131 years ago. I would have all the English speaking peoples do that together. I would create a new government representing that citizenship, which shall act directly on all its sovereign citizens just as our Federal Government does.

It would end the cleavage that divides and weakens the English speaking world."

"The time has come." Mr. Kingsley said later, "for the United States of America and the British Empire, without hostility to any other nation or any other people, without any plan of aggression, but merely for the purposes of defence and to preserve civilization, to face facts. And what are some of the facts?

"Fact 3—The Anglo-Saxon does 60 per cent of the business of the world.

"Fact 4—The Anglo-Saxon's empire is divided politically into two great sovereignties which now face each other, driven by an intenser competition, irritated by more points of friction and menaced by more subtle and determined external enemies than effer before.

"Fact 5—That division is political only: in all essentials, including speech, literature, laws, traditions and aspirations, the Anglo-Saxon race is still undivided.

"Fact 5—We in America have $3,000,000,000 plus invested in merchant ships; we mean to make those merchant ships; into a merchant marine, which in turn, under the rules and practices of soverinto a merchant marine, which in turn, under the rules and practices of sover-eignty, calls for a fighting fleet.

"Fact 7—The British Empire cannot endure unless it controls the seas, and our plans, forced by the logic of acts undertaken primarily in the interest of the British Empire, will probably compel us to dispute that supremacy.

"What then should we do?"

"The answer is simple. Not to do the obvious thing is to resist fate.

SAYS PILGRIM ANCESTRY IMPLIES NO BLUE BLOOD

A. Elliot Talks at Forefathers Celebration.

Descent from Pilgrim ancestry does ot imply a wealth of blue blood, even though many of America's first families base their claims for social prestige upon that descent, according to the Rev. international spokesmen for the Pilgrim's tercentenary celebration, Dr. Ellis addressed last night a fore-father's day celebration in the Flatbush Congregational Church. According to Dr. Elliot the Mayflower Pilgrims were "very ordinary village people" endowed with a tremendous moral courage, and "only one of them, Elder Brewster, was a man of any educatton."

Dr. Elliot, who formerly was pastor of a Brooklyn church, is president of the American Unitarian Association. At a meeting of men's clubs of Flatbush churches he spoke on the subject, "The Pilgrim Dynamic."
